WIDENER UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW ~ Delaware campus

Message from Dean Linda Ammons

Congratulations on completing this school year. The dedication and professionalism of our students, faculty and staff combine to make the Widener University School of Law an outstanding school. Each year as Dean, I gain new insights of the many strengths of this law school. I applaud the leadership provided by our SBA leaders and the governing boards of our law journals, moot court, trial advocacy societies, and all of our student organizations. The commitment to public service exhibited by all the members of the Law School community is inspiring, and the work in our clinical programs on behalf of people and causes that would otherwise go unrepresented is an important contribution our law school makes to the communities of which we are a part.

To those of you who are graduating, congratulations! I am looking forward to seeing you and your families at graduation. I wish you the best of luck on the bar exam and I know you will make us proud as you embark on your legal careers. The bar exam, of course, is a major hurdle, and I urge you take your preparations very seriously. Take full advantage of the bar review courses. You should take at least one course, and if possible, you should try to take two - both BarBri or its equivalent and PMBR or its equivalent. The two approaches do not duplicate, but rather complement each other, and taking both, if you are able, will maximize your chances for success. Also, try to carve out as many weeks before the exam for studying as possible. If you are working, take as much vacation time as you can, or even unpaid leaves of absence if you can arrange it, to devote your energies to studying for the bar. You have come this far and invested so much money on your legal education already that it is worth a little more investment to maximize your chances of passing the bar on your first try.

For those of you returning next fall, I wish you a productive and enjoyable summer. If you will be engaged in law-related employment or internship opportunities, I am sure you will return in the fall with a great appreciation of what you have learned in your classes, and what you still have to learn. Those of you studying abroad, have a wonderful time and spread the news about Widener Law. Good luck, and come back in August with your batteries recharged and with a renewed dedication to your legal studies.

Thank you all for helping to make my year as Dean a successful one.

OFFICE OF STUDENT AFFAIRS

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

FINAL EXAMINATIONS

As final examinations approach, all students should take a few minutes to review the Law School rules relating to examinations. These rules may be found in §607-609 of the Academic Code and §203-205 of the Dean's Office Regulations.

According to §607 (f)(1) of the Code, all examinations are graded anonymously. Students should not discuss the examination process, including the possibility of exam deferral or exam accommodation with faculty members. Any attempt by a student to identify himself/herself to a professor by placing notes or messages on an examination or exam booklet compromises the anonymous grading system. All questions should be directed to Associate Dean of Student Affairs office or the Registrar's Office. Any compromise of the anonymous grading system by a student constitutes a violation of the Code of Conduct and could result in suspension or expulsion.

Permission to defer an examination will be granted only in extreme cases. Students should refer to the guidelines. Emergency deferrals will be granted to those students who, for medical reasons, are unable to sit for an examination when scheduled. A student who becomes ill and cannot take an examination when scheduled must call the Registrar's Office before the examination begins. If that student cannot appear in person or call the Registrar, he/she may miss the exam and apply for a deferral. An application for this type of deferral must be made within 48 hours of the original exam date and in no event later than the last day of regularly scheduled exams. The student must also provide the Registrar's Office with a letter from the attending physician which confirms that the student was unable to sit for the examination due to illness. Students who begin an examination and leave due to illness may not make up the examination on the makeup day. The examination must be retaken at the end of the next semester in which the course is offered.

Anonymous numbers Anonymous numbers must be placed on all examination booklets and on the examination itself. In the unlikely event you forget to put your anonymous number on your papers before time is called, you may do so at the proctor's table when you turn in your exam. If you continue to write after the proctor has told you to stop, your examination number and the fact that you did not stop when told will be reported to the Registrar's Office and may ultimately be reported to the Office of Student Affairs.

Open book exams You may bring into an open book exam only those items designated by the professor. If you are in doubt as to what can be brought into the exam, check with your professor before the examination.

Scrap paper Scrap paper will only be permitted in an examination if the professor has specifically told the Registrar that it will be permitted. The proctor will distribute scrap paper to you during the examination.

Lavatory breaks You are reminded that the honor code applies during the entire exam and a lavatory break does not mean there is a break in the honor code rules.

Student ID Finally, remember to bring your student ID to each of your examinations. STUDENTS MUST BE POSITIVELY IDENTIFIED BY THE REGISTRAR OR PROCTOR BEFORE SITTING FOR EACH EXAM.

Students are reminded that the Student Code of Conduct §202(1) requires you to report all Code of Conduct violations.

RECYCLING NEWS

BY THE NUMBERS.....

Once: the number of times most of the more than 25 billion cartons manufactured in the U.S. are used.

55%: the amount of water saved by producing recycled paper as compared to virgin paper. Recycled paper takes 60-70% less energy to produce than paper from virgin pulp.

Source: EPA

Please remember to use the Widener Law recycling containers to recycle on campus. It is our responsibility to preserve and protect our natural resources for future generations.

Our planet's ability to provide for us has been exceeded by our “ecological footprint.”

What is an “ecological footprint?”

That's the amount of land and sea required to provide the resources for our food, shelter, and other goods—as well as the amount of land and sea needed to absorb the pollution and waste we produce in the process.

Right now, our ecological footprint is 3x's bigger than the Earth can handle. We need to take steps to reduce our footprint. Small steps are vital—their impact really does add up.

Skills Not Taught in Law School: What Associates Need to Know

Kimberly Egan, a partner in the DC office of DLA Piper, offers a list of fifteen attributes that drive the professions's most successful attorneys. These skills are not taught in law school, but they can and should be developed. Here are tips Nos. 12 & 13:

12. Time Management

Everything takes longer than expected. For research and writing projects, a good guide is the "double it to the next power" rule. For example if someone says that a project will take two hours, it actually will take four days. Good layers give themselves extra time in case things go wrong. Good lawyers are prepared for the messengers to get stuck in traffic, trains and planes to get delayed and computers to malfunction. Developing good time-management skills is especially important when juggling multiple clients and when more than one deadline occurs on the same day. Learning how to do it early is critical.

13. Diligence

The most effective new lawyers turn in completed work product, not "drafts." To senior lawyers, "draft" does not mean "work in progress," or work completed "so far." Proofreading is critical. Running spellcheck is not a substitute for proofreading. Proper grammar is not a matter of "style." And no assignment in a law firm is beneath anyone. There is no magic band of elves that comes in at night and does all the little tasks that a busy lawyer would rather not do.

Please return all Library Books

Please return any borrowed library materials before you leave for the semester. This is especially important for those materials borrowed through Interlibrary loan. We have borrowed those books on your behalf from another library and do not want to jeopardize our ability to borrow from them again.
