Turn out. Take action. Be part of this historic event

On Saturday, March 28, 2009, at 8:30 p.m. Widener University School of Law, at the invitation of the Environmental Law Society, will be joining tens of millions of concerned citizens in saving our planet for future generations by taking part in Earth Hour.

What is Earth Hour? The World Wildlife Fund developed the concept as a way to raise awareness among the general public, to make a global statement of concern about climate change, and to demonstrate commitment to finding solutions.

Last year during Earth Hour 2008, more than 50 million people in 400+ cities around the world turned off their lights showing their commitment and encouragement for the world to take action on this urgent problem facing our planet. The lights went out at Sydney's Opera House, Rome's Coliseum, the Empire State Building and the Golden Gate Bridge. Even the Google homepage flipped the switch to dark for the day.

This year, Earth Hour 2009 promises to be even bigger. In total, almost 1,500 cities worldwide are already committed to turn off the lights and more are joining everyday.

On March 28th at 8:30 pm, please join us and millions of others in turning out and taking action! For more information, go to www.EarthHour.com

ADMISSIONS OFFICE

Hey law students! Do you feel you have a story to tell? Are you longing for a creative outlet?

Then why not become a blogger for Widener Law's website? The Admissions Office is looking for talented student bloggers to write interesting and insightful posts describing the law school experience.

Visitors to the site can follow your journey through law school and watch you grow and develop into the successful lawyer you aspire to be. If this appeals to your inner Shakespeare, then email Eric Kniskern at emkniskern@widener.edu.

Please remember to use the recycling containers to recycle here on campus.

It is our responsibility to preserve and protect our natural resources for future generations.

Widener University School of Law 2009 Summer International Law Institutes Earn Law Credits Overseas This Summer

Summer is the perfect time to earn credits while experiencing international cultures and learning different perspectives of faculty and students from foreign countries. With the globalization of the world economy, an understanding of international business, trade, and jurisdiction has become essential for the modern lawyer. Why not consider adding a law-related experience to your resume' that stands out to employers and may open opportunities in an increasingly global world of law practice.

All programs are organized to allow students to balance class work with time to explore and learn about the country.

Widener School of Law offers the following International Law Institutes for Summer 2009

Geneva International Law Institute (6 credit maximum)

June 1 - June 26, 2009

- International Human Rights-Part I & II (1 credit each part)
- Comparative Health Law (2 credits)
- International Trade & Investment Law (2 credits)

Sydney International Law Institute (6 credit maximum)

June 19 - July 20, 2009

Courses:

- International & Comparative Commercial Law (3 credits)
- Comparative Family Law (3 credits)
- TBA (3 credits)

Venice International Law Institute (6 credit maximum)

June 15 - July 15, 2009

Courses:

- International Sales Law (2 credits)
- European Union Law (2 credits)
- Comparative Civil Litigation (1 credit)
- International & Comparative Labor & Employment Law (1 credit)

Nairobi International Law Institute (4 credit maximum)

June 15 - July 16, 2009

Courses:

- International Environmental Law & Trade (2 credits)
- Comparative Family Law (2 credits)
- Comparative Constitutional Law (2 credits)

Each one is really different and each one provides amazing opportunities not just to visit foreign countries but to live in one and to learn about different cultures and to learn something about you! Contact Arlene Trapuzzano at artrapuzzano@widener.edu or on 302-477-2248 for more information.
