ANNOUNCING A FREE BEGINNER TO INTERMEDIATE MAT PILATES CLASS AT WIDENER LAW OPEN TO STUDENTS, FACULTY AND STAFF

Pilates is an exercise regimen designed to strengthen the muscles of the abdominal core and pelvic region while increasing overall strength and flexibility. Local attorney and Certified Mat Pilates Instructor, Tim Shollenberger, will lead these sessions. The class is designed for both beginners and those who have taken Pilates classes in the past.

The class will meet in the Sidebar every Tuesday beginning January 24th through February 21st from 5:00 p.m. to 5:45 p.m. If there is sufficient interest we will continue the classes beyond that date.

The only equipment you will need is a yoga or Pilates mat. See Dean Sealing if you have any questions.

INCLEMENT WEATHER INFORMATION

Widener University students, faculty, and staff should look to internal Widener University communications channels for information on snow closings and delayed openings instead of television and radio. The options on those stations are too limited and permit no customization.

Therefore, with the exception of news about the Exton Campus, Widener University will no longer rely on television and radio stations to carry inclement weather announcements. We will continue to announce closings of the Exton Campus on television and radio.

Inclement weather announcements will be posted on these in internal communications channels:
